302-311. "Resolves upon" in the Okkanta Connected Discourses means obtains the decision of faith. "Entered the fixed course of the right path" means entered the noble path. "And incapable of dying until" - by this he explains the unobstructedness of the fruition when the path has arisen. For when the path has arisen, there is no such thing as the making of an obstacle to the fruition. Therefore he said - "If this person were practising for the realisation of the fruition of stream-entry, and it were the time for the cosmic cycle to be burnt up, the cosmic cycle would indeed not be burnt up until this person realises the fruition of stream-entry. This person is called one who stabilises the cosmic cycle." "Yield to pondering to a moderate degree" means they yield to looking at to a measured extent. The remainder is clear everywhere.
